

Cattle Hill Wind Farm Construction Update for June 2019.

Cattle Hill Wind Farm is located on the eastern shore of Lake Echo in the southern side of the Central Plateau of Tasmania. The project will consist of 48 Goldwind turbines and associated infrastructure. Construction of the project is currently underway, and the wind farm is aimed to become fully operational in late 2019.

On-site Construction Progress

Construction work on the project site is ongoing:

- All access roads between wind turbines are complete, all 48 wind turbine foundations have been excavated and concrete pours are complete.
- The first wind turbine was fully installed in early May and turbine installation are now ongoing.
- Almost half of the wind turbine towers have been pre-installed in anticipation of full turbine installation in the coming months.
- Almost half of the wind turbine components have been delivered to site.
- Substation construction works are underway with the Main Transformer (220kV Power Transformer) and 33kV Switchroom now on site.
- Approximately one quarter of the 33kV electrical cabling has been installed in the ground.

Transportation of Oversize Turbine Components

The transportation of oversize turbine components is ongoing. Components are being transported from the Port of Bell Bay to the project site. The route will follow the Bell Bay Road, East Tamar Highway, Midland Highway, Highlands Lakes Road, Waddamana Road and Bashan Road to the project site.

The loads will travel Monday – Saturday mornings each week, leaving the Port of Bell Bay very early in the morning and arriving at the project site before lunchtime.

Goldwind places a high importance on road safety for all road users and acknowledges the inconvenience that encountering these deliveries may cause. All loads will travel in accordance with the relevant permit conditions and will be accompanied by pilot vehicles and in some cases police escorts.

Community Engagement

Local community groups and organisations are invited to be in touch if they wish to discuss how they could learn more about the project (for example having a tailored information session for the group) or if they would like to discuss the potential for sponsorship opportunities.
