

Cattle Hill Wind Farm Construction Update for May 2019.

Cattle Hill Wind Farm is located on the eastern shore of Lake Echo in the southern side of the Central Plateau of Tasmania. The project will consist of 48 Goldwind turbines and associated infrastructure. Construction of the project is currently underway, and the wind farm is aimed to become fully operational in late 2019.

On-site Construction Progress

Construction work on the project site is ongoing:

- All access roads between wind turbines completed to sub base level. Final capping to be completed in next 4-6 weeks.
- All 48 wind turbine foundations excavated
- Approximately 37 wind turbine foundations poured
- Substation construction works commenced.
- Initial wind turbines have been partially installed
- Quarter of the wind turbine components have been delivered to the project site.

Transportation of Oversize Turbine Components

The transportation of oversize turbine components is underway. Approximately 528 loads of oversize turbine components will be transported from the Port of Bell Bay to the project site. The route will follow the Bell Bay Road, East Tamar Highway, Midland Highway, Highlands Lakes Road, Waddamana Road and Bashan Road to the project site.

The loads will travel Monday – Saturday mornings each week, leaving the Port of Bell Bay very early in the morning and arriving at the project site before lunchtime.

Goldwind places a high importance on road safety for all road users and acknowledges the inconvenience that encountering these deliveries may cause. All loads will travel in accordance with the relevant permit conditions and will be accompanied by pilot vehicles and in some cases police escorts.
