Cattle Hill Wind Farm (CHWF) is pleased to announce the opening of the annual community fund. The fund supports neighbouring projects and organisations that will provide lasting local community benefits.

Previous successful applications have ranged from communication technology for Jericho Fire Brigade through to a community space in Waddamana. Each project shows the face of the local community. We wish to give a special thank you to emergency services during the extreme weather events experienced recently.

At CHWF, we pride ourselves on supporting diverse applications. The Community Fund Committee members who assess the submitted projects, are local community members.

This year's applications are open from 27 August 2024 and close midnight on 8 October 2024.

ANZAC Remembrance

'It's great to see the community come together.'

Peter Jackson, CHWF Site Manager

On 5 May, CHWF Site Manager Peter Jackson attended the ANZAC Day service at Bothwell District High School. He spent an afternoon with likeminded community members.

The event was a tribute to local people who played a role in Australia's military history. It gave community members a time to reflect on loss during wartime.

Attendees paid respects for a brighter future after hard times.

The wind farm team supports these moments of reflection, to see where support can be made.

Thanks to Bothwell District High School for welcoming Peter to their event. It was a great experience that Cattle Hill Wind Farm hopes to be part of in the future.

Spotlight on

Kyle Jones
Service Coordinator, Cattle Hill Wind Farm

I am a Service Coordinator with Goldwind Australia at the Cattle Hill Wind Farm. I recently joined the team to support administration needs, training support and scheduling, helping with warehouse duties and maintaining our compliance register information to be used with regulators.

In my short time working on site, I have learnt new skills and a wealth of technical knowledge. I've seen some remarkable teamwork and innovation at this wind farm in the centre of beautiful Tasmania.

It excites me to see how my practical contribution benefits the wind energy sector. I now understand how the work of our team is an essential piece of the puzzle to make Tasmania the renewable energy hub it is today.
